NUMBER 23

A DOCUMENT OF INTEREST.

J. N. Coffey County Road Engineer, Reports to the Fiscal Court of Adair County.

Gentlemen:—

I herewith submit my report as County Road Engineer for Adair County Ky., for the 6 months ending March 31, '13.

Immediately after the Oct., 1912, term of the Fiscal Court at which time you elected me County Road Engineer. I attended an examination as required by law, and secured from the State Commissioner of Roads a certificate authorizing me to act in the capacity to which you had elected me.

Under a ruling of the law made by the Hon. Jas. Garnett, Attorney General of the State: immediately upon my return from the examination at Frankfort, Ky., assumed the duties of the office, on Oct., 12, 1912.

My first act as County Road Engineer was to go over the county and examine the roads, culverts and bridges, for the purpose of ascertaining as well as I could the needs of the county and the conditions pertaining to roads in each section.

I found the roads in a deplorable condition, a few sections only having roads worthy of the name, the main part of the county being traversed by a series of gullies, rocky branches, creek beds, etc., in an almost impassible condition.

As required by law I have with the assistance of the Hon. N. H. Moss, County Judge, laid off the county into what we think are convenient and practical road districts, appointing by mutual agreement, from one to three Assistant Engineers in each road district, as the needs of each division in our judgment required.

For the present we think that these road districts will suffice to give us a chance to put to a practical test the intentions of the framers of the new road law.

We have laid off and described in a book kept for that purpose, the bounds of 18 road districts in the county, and have appointed the following Assistant Engineers:

- Dist. No 1, Wm. McKinley.
- " " 2, D. M. Moore.
- " " 3, W. E. Todd.
- " " 4, S. T. Hughes.
- " " 5, John Dohoney and W. S. Stotts.
- " " 6, June Willis.
- " " 7, J. C. Dohoney.
- " " 8, W. S. Pickett and W. H. Kemp.
- " " 9, Chas. W. Sparks.
- " " 10, Millard Corbin and J. H. Breeding.
- " " 11, J. W. Burbridge and Albert Turner.
- " " 12, Jas. Jones and J. W. Marshall.
- " " 13, Virgil Hurt.
- " " 14, Cassius Breeding—Josh Beard and Jim McQuerey.
- " " 15, J. B. Coffey.
- " " 16, Tom McDermott and E. B. Morgan.
- " " 17, Granville Russell and Hardin Cundiff.
- " " 18, S. L. Banks and E. O. Turner.

Where we have appointed more than one assistant in a district we thought the territory was too large for one man to look over and take care of properly.

The Assistant Engineers are all employed with the understanding that they are to perform the services required of them for the sum of one dollar per day when actually employed in the performance of their duties.

A certified claim for their services to be presented to the Fiscal Court for allowance upon this basis.

Of actual work upon the roads of the county but little has been done since I assumed the duties of the office. I did go out on several of the roads during October and November, 1912, and got the overseers to warn in the hands and try to get their divisions in as good condition as possible before winter set in, but in the most of the county the hands had already worked out their time and there was no possibility of doing any general improvement before Spring and summer of this year.

About the first week in January this year, we had, as you all know, the most disastrous flood this section has ever known. This flood in addition to washing the roads all to pieces and creating almost impassible conditions in many places, washed away 48 feet of the approach to the bridge over Russell's creek at mouth of disappointment creek, and rendered useless and unsafe, about 60 feet of the approach to the bridge at Milltown. The bridge over Green river at Watson, was swept from the piers and lodged about 75 yards below, in the river.

We have repaired the damage to the bridges at Milltown and Disappointment creek, supplying new foundations timbers at both, and can truthfully state that these two bridges are now in better condition than they were before the washout. The cost of this repair has all been paid except $8.50, and the total cost for both bridges will not exceed $90.

In the Green river bridge case at Watson, Granville Russell, Assistant Engineer, with the assistance of the people living near by has been enabled to save a great deal of the wood material of said bridge, consisting of flooring, sleepers and banisters, which were in drifts along the river, he having had it hauled out and stored in a safe place.

In regard to the main span of the bridge, the Hon. County Judge and I have contracted with the Champion Bridge Company to take it out of the river, assorting the damaged and undamaged as they take it out at a cost to the county of the actual cost to the said bridge company plus 25 per cent., for their profit; and at this time the work is about completed.

We deemed this to be the best course for us to pursue, as we had no one in this county that was prepared to do the work, and besides, when this company, who were the builders of this bridge, get it all out of the water and straightened out, they will be able to give us and estimate of what we will have to procure in the way of new material in order to reconstruct said bridge, and also give us an estimate of the probable cost thereof.

In this connection we would recommend that your honorable body authorize the raising of the bridge 3 or 4 feet when it is reconstructed, so as to place it above high water mark, as it has been demonstrated by this catastrophe to be entirely too low.

We would also recommend that the approach on both sides of this bridge be placed upon cement abutments, dispensing with wooden underpinning, and that iron runners be substituted for the wood. We believe this will be economy in the long run.

The new road law stipulates that the County Road Engineer gather together all the road machinery belonging to the county and house the same when not in use.

As the county had no house that could be used for that purpose I have ordered the Assistant Engineers in each road district to gather up all the machinery within their jurisdiction belonging to the county and take charge of the same returning to me an itemized statement or list of the same for the preparation of my report to your honorable body at the October term of the fiscal court this year.

I find from the reports verbally rendered so far, that there are enough picks, shovels and scrapes to answer our purpose if we are able to set in motion and carry out our plans of systemizing the construction and maintenance of the roads.

The subject of taxation, voting bonds etc., for road purposes has been engaging the attention of our citizens considerably of late, especially that specimen of the Genus Homo, the candidate, who always loves the dear people and is very considerate of their welfare just before election. All this verbosity and printers ink will no doubt answer a good purpose in the long run, but I regard the most that has been said as premature and not pertinent to the subject. We have a new and as yet untried road law and I would recommend that we give this law as it now stands, a test, expanding our energies along the line mapped out in its provisions before we go off at a tangent voting bonds or incurring any other great expense.

As I see it, what we need is a radical change in the system of working the roads. To expect the people of this county to improve and maintain six or seven hundred miles of dirt roads, rocky branches and creekbeds in passable condition with picks and shovels by hand labor supplemented occasionally with a little plowing (with a borrowed plow) and a road scraper, would be as near an impossibility, in my judgement, as the digging of the Panama canal with a grubbing-hoe.

A levy of 20c tax on the hundred dollars will produce approximately $5000.00 of revenue which I believe is ample for the time being as we are not yet sufficiently developed in road knowledge to attempt a big outlay. This amount of money will at least provide us with sufficient funds to buy some road machinery of new and improved type for each road district and pay for the execution of the law as it now stands and provide for the maintenance of the bridges and culverts.

We have one large grader that I consider impractical for the most of this county, and I would recommend that it either be sold or turned over to the Pellyton (No. 15) road district as they can use it up there and have secured more benefit from its use than any other part of the county.

For the county at large I would recommend that the county buy for the use of each road district a small grader that the farmers can use with their two-horse teams, a working outfit for each district I think should consist of 2 or 3 plows of the bull tongue or coulter type—a small two horse grader—a split-log drag and the tools—picks—shovels and scrapes we now have.

The system in the management of the roads as now in practice I regard as an inexcusably expensive one. The business of the county, should, I think, be administered along economical lines the same as that of an individual.

When we need a little lumber, nails or other material for the construction or repairing of a bridge or culvert, we are forced under emergency to go to some one who can supply us with the needed article and contract to pay therefore in most cases a rather exorbitant price for sometimes, as in the case of lumber, a rather inferior article having the same charged to the county, the party furnishing the same having to wait from 6 to 12 months to get his pay and may be lose 2 or 3 days time in getting his claim allowed by the fiscal court. All of this adds to the expensiveness of the system and is paid for in the long run by the people. In this connection I would suggest that you empower your Road Engineer if you can trust him financially, and if you cannot you had better get one that you can, to lay in supplies of needed road material in each road district, said material to consist of lumber or other material for culverts—nails by the keg—or any other supplies needed in the keeping up the roads and bridges. This would result in a great saving in my judgment.

A responsible head is needed in every undertaking in life. The road question is no exception even if it is the largest one undertaken by mankind since they tried to build the tower of Babel, and as your honorable body has seen fit to put me at the head of this road movement and as the responsibility for success or failure must rest upon me, I request that you stand by me in all that is reasonable in these suggestions and in my efforts to better the roads in this county.

I believe I have well matured plans in my mind that will cost but little to carry out that will soon after being put in operation make it manifest to the most skeptical that something practical and beneficial can result from the new road law if conscientiously carried out.

Therefore, if it is legal and this court has the power, I ask that I be given authority to buy the machinery and other road supplies as suggested in these recommendations. Requiring of me of course a strict accounting for all that may be placed in my hands, and furthermore that I act in conjunction with the state road commission as directed by law.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. N. Coffey
County Road Engineer.

Manifestation of Sympathy.

People of Columbia have at all times been ready to help when distress comes.

At the mass meeting held at the court-house to raise funds for the storm and flood sufferers, $102.72 was raised. The next morning a sum sufficient to swell the amount to $131.87 was paid in, and last Thursday night Columbia Lodge, No. 230, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, sent its check for $10.50, making a total of $142.37.

Mr. Jo N. Conover, who was Secretary of the public meeting, sent a check to the Red Cross Society, Louisville, for $131.87, receiving a receipt for same. The amount given by the Odd Fellows Lodge was sent to R. G. Elliott, Grand Secretary of Kentucky.

Mr. T. C. Faulkner and family, who resided near Campbellsville, have removed to Columbia and are occupying the residence on Garnett Avenue, recently purchased by Mr. Faulkner from Mr. Walker Bryant. Mr. Faulkner is a good citizen and he has an excellent family, and our people are glad that they have located in this place. Mr. Bryant removed to a small dwelling on his land recently purchased of Mrs. Sarah Bradshaw, where he will make his home until he can build a residence, which he will commence and complete this coming summer and fall.

Cholera has got among the hogs on Crocus creek, and it is reported that many have died.

Cane Valley Loses a Good Citizen.

Last Thursday morning, at 10 o'clock, Mr. Joseph R. Rice, who was one of the best citizens of Cane Valley, this county, crossed to the other side in full hopes of a blessed immortality, having made a profession of his faith in Christ and joined the Baptist Church in his early manhood, living consistently until the end.

The deceased was a son of the late Frank Rice and was about forty-six years old. His affliction was of long duration, being a victim of cancer, of the stomach.

He will be greatly missed, not only by his wife and children, aged mother, brothers and sisters, but by the entire community.

The funeral services were held Friday morning, many relatives and friends attending. The interment was in the Cane Valley cemetery.

Besides his wife and four children, his mother, two brothers and two sisters, he leaves a large circle of relatives. His wife was a Miss Wilson, a sister of Mr. Geo. E. Wilson, this place. Mrs. Brack Massey, Columbia, and Mrs. J. W. Sublett, Cane Valley, were his sisters. The brothers left are Messrs. Frank and Eugene Rice, Campbellsville.

The News desires to extend its sympathy to all those who deeply feel the great loss.

Work of the Fiscal Court.

The Adair Fiscal Court closed its labors last Thursday afternoon. Claims allowed amount to more than $4,700.

Mr. J. R. Garnett was re-elected Treasurer of the county.

County levy, for all purposes, $1.00 on the one hundred dollars worth of property.

The per capita tax, $1.00, general poll 50 cents, school tax outside Columbia Graded School district.

Base Ball.

Next Saturday, the 12th, the Burkesville team will cross bats with the boys of the Lindsey-Wilson on the "latters ground" this city. The game will be called at 2:30 p. m. All who enjoy a good game will have an opportunity to witness an exciting contest. Admission 25 cents.

Mrs. Lona Rubarts, Eunice, entertained quite a large crowd Wednesday in honor of her father, Mr. G. A. Cundiff, of Danville, it being his 65 birthday. He received many nice presents which were a great surprise to him. His daughter, Mrs. Ann Russell, of Phil, rendered some nice music. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Josh Beard and children, Mr. Mont. Harman, wife and little daughter, Clarice, Mrs. M. E. Williams, Mrs. Sarah Miller, Mr. G. A. Cundiff, wife and children, Mrs. Ann Russell and children.

A large crowd of yeomanry was in Columbia Monday, April term of the Adair county court. Some stock changed hands and candidates were busy throughout the day.

Spirited Rivalry.

For the last quarter the Columbia Baptist Sunday School has been an active body, and as a result, the attendance has almost doubled, and the interest still growing.

Besides having a most popular and active superintendent, Prof. Chesterfield Turner, the rivalry for the banner proved a strong feature in arousing the active workers for increased attendance. For a year or more the banner has been in possession of Mr. Jo N. Conover's class, composed of men, and was there by merit, but Mrs. Mary Biggs's class gradually grew stronger, and finally determined to enter the contest for its possession. Notice was served on class number 1, that it must get busy or surrender to number 2. It accepted the challenge and became active, but lost the honor and prestige it has so long held. As soon as this was known, last Sunday by the secretary's report, Mr. Conover in a short speech full of congratulations, but somewhat threatening recapture, delivered the aforesaid banner to class number 2. In response, and in accepting the honor won, Mrs. Biggs showed due appreciation of the work done by her class, and served notice in no unmistakable language that the banner would continue to float over her class. While the rivalry was spirited, it was conducted with due love for the great cause of Sunday School work, and has accomplished much good. Such a contest is healthy, and we trust that the good work will continue. This is the first contest between the ladies and gentlemen in this laudable work, and the activity, persistency and power of the ladies please have given them the victory. "Well done thou good and faithful servants."

Interesting Figures.

The following interesting figures were taken from the Assessor's book for the year 1912:

There are 159,593 acres of land in the county listed for taxation, valued at $1,492,570.

There are 362 town lots, valued at $313,167.

There are one hundred and eleven stores in Adair, the combined capital $116,175.

Total assessed value of property, listed for taxation $3,260,104.

Exemption to housekeepers, $1,524,118, leaving $2,735,923, subject to taxation—$20,333 less than last report.

Voters in the county, 3,518.

Dogs listed 655.

Rev. John Rice preached an interesting sermon at Disappointment School House Sunday at 11 o'clock. He will preach there the first Sunday in each month from now till November. He will also preach at Hutchins-School House the third Sunday in each month. Rev. Marvin Perryman will preach at Disappointment School House next Sunday afternoon April 13th, at 2 o'clock. Everybody invited to attend these services and take part in the song service.

Rev. Daniel W. White, of Louisville, a representative of the Anti-Saloon League, visited Columbia last Saturday. Sunday he delivered two addresses in the interest of the temperance cause. In the forenoon he spoke at the Baptist church and in the evening at the Methodist church. Large audiences heard him. A collection was taken at both places.

I represent E. R. Spottswood & Son, Manufacturers of Hardwood Lumber, Lexington, Ky. If you have lumber, logs, or boundaries of timber, call on me.

C. M. Herriford,
Columbia, Ky.

Mr. Frank Richardson, a very capable young man, perfectly reliable, one who has many friends, has accepted a position with the V. M. Gowdy Co., a wholesale grocery house, located in Columbia. Mr. Richardson will travel in Adair county and also in adjoining counties. The trade given him will be highly appreciated, not only by himself, but by his many friends.

Billie Brown, the well digger, known all over this county as "Kittie Clyde," died at his home on Melson's Ridge, a few days ago. He was about seventy-five years old and was a soldier in the Federal army during the Civil war.

Base Ball.

The Lindsey-Wilson boys made their annual baseball tour last week, playing three games. They made the trip in Mr. Myers' big auto and enjoyed it very much. At each place they were treated royally and have nothing but praise for their opponents.

Following is a report of each game:

LINDSEY-WILSON VS. DANVILLE K. S. D.

The weather was very unfavorable there being a strong wind which interfered with the playing all round. The result of the game was Lindsey 10—Danville 6. Batteries for Lindsey, Sullivan, Hancock, Wolford, and Rosenfield; Danville, Morgan, Jasper, Barron. Hits, Lindsey, 18; Danville, 11.

LINDSEY-WILSON VS. ST. MARYS.

In spite of the cold the boys played well, but at the end of the ninth inning the score stood 11 to 6 in favor of St. Marys. Batteries, St. Marys, Snider and Gates; Lindsey-Wilson, Hancock, Cheatham and Rosenfield. Hits, St. Marys, 17; Lindsey, 11.

LINDSEY-WILSON VS. SPRINGFIELD.

It was a fine day and the boys did some of their best playing. Up to the last half of the ninth inning the score stood 6 to 2 in favor of Lindsey, but when the Springfield boys came to the bat they tied the score and at the end of the tenth inning the score was 7 to 6 in favor of Springfield. Batteries, Springfield, McClellon, Barbee, Wilborn, T. Haydon. Lindsey, Sullivan, Hancock and Rosenfield. Hits, Springfield, 5; Lindsey, 15. Struck out by Sullivan, 16; by McClellon, 6.

Eloped.

Last Sunday afternoon Mr. Willie S. Feese, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Feese, of this place, and Miss Mattie Hatcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hatcher, eloped from Loretto, Ky., to Cincinnati where they expected to get married. Ed Hatcher is a son of Mr. Sherrod Hatcher, Adair county, and he and his family removed to Loretto in January and opened a boarding house. The couple met while the young lady was out walking, no one else knowing that Mr. Feese was in Loretto. Two other attempts had been made to elope.

Catherine Williams, of color, who is the mother-in-law of Rev. P. H. Jackman, will be one hundred years old the 15th of this month. She is in fairly good health and her mind unimpaired. She is the mother of 15 children, 110 grand children, 154 great grand children, 25 great, great grand children. Total, 304.

But few of the patrons of Columbia Post-office have the least conception of the amount of mail handled. During the month of March the total weight of mails, sacks and pouches was 25,658 pounds and 14 ounces. These figures show that the mails from Louisville can not be opened in a few minutes.

More than two-thirds of the housekeepers in Columbia planted their gardens last week; that is, all seed necessary to be put in the ground at this time. To have success with beans they should not be planted until the first of May. A frost most generally comes about the 10th of May.

Mr. A. D. Patterson, Sheriff of Adair county, made a full settlement with the Fiscal Court, last week, up to that date, paying the Treasurer of the county every cent due from him up to that date. His report will be published later.

Oliver Miller, son of Dr. and Mrs. S. P. Miller, who is attending the Lincoln Memorial University of Medicine, Knoxville, Tenn., has passed a very satisfactory examination, making the second best grade in the school. The best grade was made by a lady.

Former State Senator W. F. Near, of this county, has been appointed a delegate, by Gov. McCreary, to the National Confederation of Good Roads which will convene in Birmingham, Ala., the 24th and 25th of this month.

Mr. J. R. Tutt, who was in Columbia Monday, reports that the bottom lands about Milltown and Portland were greatly damaged by the recent high waters in Russell's creek.

A large store house at Phil, the property of J. F. Gabberry and a stock of goods owned by G. J. Bolton were consumed by fire one night last week, loss, estimated, at $10,000, partly insured.

Mr. J. S. Breeding has removed to the John N. Conover residence, near the Graded School building.

A Tribute.

Sam Edd Squires, son of Martin and Eliza Squires, was born August the 22nd, 1845, died Feb. the 13th, 1913. Was married January the 14th, 1873, to Miss Belle Squires. He leaves a wife, three sons and six daughters. One son and three daughters are single.

He professed religion at his home during a protracted meeting held in his neighborhood in June 1907.

His health began to fail several years since, and he was confined to his bed from December until his death. He died of a complication of diseases.

Throughout his illness he was patient and grateful for every kindness from his devoted family and attentive neighbors. The last five weeks of his life one whom he had known from his childhood staid by him, waiting on him as tenderly as he could have waited on a father. His kindness and the kindness of other neighbors will always be gratefully remembered.

He had always been devoted to his family, and when he believed his days were numbered, he tried to arrange his business matters for their comfort. During the years of his bad health his devoted wife never left, and she and his children gave him every attention. He did not fear death, but loving his family so devotedly, he would have been glad to live for their sake. How yearningly his heart went out to his three single daughters.

In his last days he spent much time in prayer. He often said he hoped God would give him a warning before death came. The night before his death with ecstasy he exclaimed, "Glory!" It is believed that death struck him then. In his last hours he talked to his family with the utmost calmness, often though, mingling his tears with theirs. His last whispered words were: "Let me die." There has passed from earth a loving husband and father, a kind friend—one who will be sadly missed.

To weary hearts, to mourning homes, God's meekest angel gently comes: No power has he to banish pain Or give us back our lost again, And yet in tenderest love our dear And heavenly Father sends him here.

O, thou who mournest on thy way, With longings for the close of day; He walks with thee, that angel kind, And gently whispers, "Be resigned;" Bear up, bear up, the end shall tell The dear Lord ordereth all things well.

Wage and Vice.

The investigation conducted at Chicago by a committee of the Illinois senate, has been productive of a great deal of testimony to the effect that low wages are the principal cause of vice in large cities. This testimony has been published by newspapers throughout the country, and the impression has been created that higher wages would do much to put an end to the white slave traffic. The investigation seems not, however, to have taken into consideration all the facts in the case, some of which are worthy of note.

The United States census shows that wages of women in large cities are higher than those of women in small cities and towns. It also shows that the cost of living is higher in large cities than it is in small towns. But what seems more to the point, this same authority presents figures that conclusively demonstrate the fact that housing conditions in large cities are more conducive to crime of all kinds than those in smaller places. This important fact has been emphasized by a comparison of housing conditions in Chicago and in Philadelphia, the former a city of tenements, the latter a city of homes; the former a city notorious for its vice, the latter, according to the statements of investigation, "the cleanest city of its size in the world."

But, perhaps, the most important contribution to the discussion of the question has been made by Miss Milholland, who, in an article on the subject, does not hesitate to divide responsibility for vice between the men and the women, and who frankly states that so long as there is sex attraction there will be vice, no matter how high the wages paid. The only way she sees to lessen vice is by proper instruction of children in sex hygiene, so that as boys and girls grow to manhood and womanhood they will better understand themselves and their relations to each other. Miss Milholland rightly says that "morals cannot be created by law." They never have been and they never will be. Higher wages will only lessen temptation.—Grit.

A Good Laundry Soap.

"Readers of The Commoner" will find this a good laundry soap;

Measure twelve quarts of water (soft); take six quarts and put over the fire in a large soap kettle; when it boils, add five pounds of tallow, or any kind of grease, even the carcklings after frying out the lard; let the grease boil a few minutes and then gradually add one box of lye; while it is boiling, put four ounces each of borax and sal soda into a quart of the water you have already measured; set on the back of the stove until both are dissolved. When the soap begins to get ropy, which it will in half an hour, add the borax and soda solution, stir well, and gradually stir in the five remaining quarts of cold water; it must "rope" well before adding the borax and soda. Dip out into shallow pans, let cool and dry in the air.—Commoner.

Lost Pin Mystery.

One of the mysteries of the world is certainly the pin. In astounding quantities they pour from numerous factories, principally in Birmingham. One mill alone is credited with turning out nearly 10,000,000 pins a day, and no one has ever attempted the calculation of the world's output. A pin is a thing which, in the ordinary way, would last for years, and it is a problem to account for the necessity for the making of such enormous quantities.

The explanation is undoubtedly that pins are so cheap that everyone throws away or loses them as fast as they use them. Thousands and thousands of them enter the sewers of our towns, and solid masses are often found where innumerable examples of these tiny articles have become welded together in their passage through the sewers.

The output of a pin factory includes dozens of different sizes from the tiny pins used by naturalists, only a quarter of an inch long, and as fine as a hair, to Giant blanket pins four inches in length and nearly as thick as a wire nail.

Hairpins are another example of useful articles made to be lost; they follow the fate of the common pin, and descent in a continual shower on the paths and floors of every civilized country. Says the Star: "One observant visitor calculated from careful examination that on an ordinary day there were over 3,000 hairpins lying on Llandudno Parade." All pins are made by automatic machines, which complete the transformation from wire in a single operation.

Hemstitching on the Machine.

Several readers have asked for this method, and two dear good readers have just sent these directions in; so we pass them along at once. Measure off the hem wanted, tear off, double the strip, turn a very narrow hem on them. Take paper, fold sixteen thicknesses, put the two edges together, and slip the thicknesses of paper between under the hem. Loosen the top tension of the machine, and proceed to sew as close to the edge as you can stitch, then tear out the paper, pull the goods apart, and you will have the hem stitching.—Mrs. E. C.

Another: Measure the hem as desired, draw four or five threads or as many as desired; turn the raw edge of the hem, and part your hem (measure to fit the goods to keep straight) just as if you were working by hand. Now fold them and goods together, set machine so it will make a short stitch, loosening the tension a very little, then sew very close to the edge, having the drawn threads on top, and part your hem. Sometimes you will have to pull the hem to get it in place. Test on some old goods until you know how. This will look like hand work.—Ella G.

JUDAS NO. 76,284.

The above picture is a natural photograph of JUDAS the famous PERCHERON STALLION. He will make the season of 1913, at my barn one mile east of Columbia, Ky., on the Somerset road, for the sum of $10.00 to insure a living colt.

DESCRIPTION: Judas is a 5 year old Percheron, a steel gray, weighs 1700 pounds and is 16½ hands high. He is a perfect model and a world beater. Remember that every farming country in the world wants the Percheron horse. The leading mule producing States are raising the mules from the Percheron mares. See this horse before you breed. I will gladly show you his certificate of registration and Pedigree.

Money due when colt is foaled or mare traded or removed from neighborhood.

All care taken to prevent accidents but not responsible should any occur.

The singing at Mr. J. O. Polleys last Saturday night week, was largely attended and all reported a fine singing.

Master Alonzo Bryant celebrated his 13 birthday. Quite a number of his friends and playmates went in to help the little fellow eat a splendid dinner.

Prof. Huffaker was here last week to see his friends.

Such a nice social gathering and such another fine dinner your scribe has not had the pleasure of attending in a long time, as the Easter dinner that was spread at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blair last Sunday, and another enjoyable feature of the occasion was the good singing and organ music of the afternoon. There were a host of relatives and friends present, and all expressed themselves as having enjoyed the day immensely.

G. W. Whitlock sold his stock of goods to his brother, Otho, a short time ago. His health is not very good and he concluded that he needed more fresh air.

Mr. U. N. Whitlock and family, of Bliss, were visiting his sister at this place one night last week.

RAVEN BIRD.

This fine Stallion will make the season of 1913 at my barn 2 miles from Jamestown and will be permitted to serve mares for $8.00 to insure a living colt. Money due when colt is foaled or mare traded or removed from neighborhood or bred to other stock. All care taken to prevent accidents but not responsible should any occur.

RAVEN BIRD sired by Red Bird 1956, he by Cabell's Joe Brown 1955, he by Cabell's Lexington 3234, by Gist's Black Hawk. 1st dam Authilia Thompson, by Thompson's Lexington, he by Cabell's Lexington 3234, by Gist's Black Hawk. 2nd dam by Caldwell's Denmark, he by King Denmark. 2nd dam Bonie, by old Nat Brown 81.

RAVEN BIRD is a beautiful mahogany bay, full 16 hands high, 6 years old, has the best of eyes, feet and legs, a beautiful head and neck, a very heavy well set tail, which he at all times carries to perfection. He possesses extreme speed, style and action, and the most perfect disposition of any stallion I have ever seen or handled. He has fine distinct gaits, and goes them all in a most attractive manner. He is one of Red Bird's greatest sons, and has proven himself an excellent breeder.

BILL McFARLAND.

This Jack is the John McFarland Jack, 15 hands 3 inches high, and will stand at same place at $8.00 to insure a living colt. Same terms as applied to horse.

John F. Wooldridge.

A large crowd took dinner at Mrs. Jane C. Whitlock's Easter Sunday, about 40 in number.

Mr. Rollin Pyles got painfully hurt a few days ago while at work on a barn for Mr. Tom Finn, but is able to be out again.

Adair County News Company.
(INCORPORATED.)

CHAS. S. HARRIS EDITOR.

Democratic newspaper devoted to the interest of the City of Columbia and the people of Adair and adjacent counties.

Entered at the Columbia Post-office as second class mail matter.

WED. APRIL 9, 1913.

Temperance workers throughout the country are highly gratified over the law, recently passed, preventing the shipping of liquors into dry territory. Many seem to believe that this law will practically remove the evil that has so long pulled down the strong and destroyed the weak; that has blighted fair prospects of many young men, and wrecked the happiness of homes and communities. Congress passed this measure over the President's veto on very short notice. It seemed that a great majority felt the necessity of giving the people what they desire as expressed by letters, petitions and telegrams. The President vetoed it on the ground that he did not consider it constitutional. This will be tested in the court, but when, or how long it is unknown. We fail to see the good in the law that many see. Certainly the spirit of the measure is good, but we fear it will prove misguided zeal. If the government will refuse, or if it could be compelled to reject all applications for the manufacture of intoxicants in dry territory, then the Webb law would be crowned with victory. As it is the stills will operate where express and freight can not, and in many communities the manufacture will fill the demand that has heretofore been supplied by shipments. Of the two evils, our judgment is that the still house making its product under law and disposing of it in violation of law is far more to be dreaded than the shipments heretofore permitted. In fact, we cannot see as some others see, and while ready and willing to restrict the sale and use of intoxicants to the lowest point possible, yet unwilling to espouse a measure that leads only to disappointment. To make effective the anti shipping law, federal respect for local government must be secured, by preventing the manufacture in local option territory. Unless this is done the smoke from the still will be seen in many places that now receive only a limited amount of the stuff. Temperance workers should get busy in asking Congress to prevent its manufacture in dry territory, or else they may expect worse conditions to prevail. We merely give the warning under the full belief that stills will be operated for the Webb law as we see and believe it has broadened the field for their operation.

The announcement of Walker Bryant for County Court Clerk of Adair county, appears in the proper column of this paper. He is subject to the action of Democrats in the August primary. Mr. Bryant is our present clerk, and his announcement to stand for re-nomination comes after being warmly solicited. He is so well and favorably known to the people of this county as to need no words of commendation from us or others. He is probably known by as many good citizens as any man of his age in this county, and in Democratic circles he is known and appreciated by all. He was elected County Court Clerk four years ago, by a good majority, and in the service he and his efficient deputy, Mr. Olie Taylor, have rendered, stands approved by all who have had business to transact in that office. He knows his business, is prompt in service, accurate in every detail, courteous and obliging in or out of his official duties. As a gentleman his standing is as good as any man within our borders, a hard worker, enthusiastic and full of the Democratic faith. His victory of four years ago indicates his strength and the high esteem in which he is held by political opposition for many who were not affiliated with the Democratic party certainly voted for him. No prestige has been lost since then but fidelity to duty has won many more friends.

The extra session of Congress convened Monday. One of the first things to be considered is appropriations for the flood sufferers in Kentucky and other States visited by high waters. Tariff legislation will follow.

It is expected that the Collectors of the five revenue districts of Kentucky will be changed very soon, Democrats going in. A Democrat will also be appointed Surveyor of the Port, Louisville.

Additional Locals.

A Texan on Roads.

Editor News:

I have enjoyed the courageous stand The News is taking for the development of Adair county, and the healthful and progressive sentiments voiced by your paper have not, in my opinion, met with the encouragement they should have received by the people of Adair county. I was born and raised in Adair and stayed there twenty-four years and have been away a quarter of a century and my ancestors were there before the county was organized. If any of your people think I have no right to talk, tell them to come to Texas and see if they can take my scalp. Anent—the good roads proposition—this $2 check I hand you for subscription would doubtless pay the much talked of road tax of the average farm of Adair for one year.

Talk about bonds—there is no other way to make a public improvement of any considerable cost, and there is no other way to get a country up to the standard and keep it up to the standard except by improving the county, and there is no way to keep a people from becoming narrow and overbearing in their opinions except by improvement and development. And in improvement and development is contemplated not only the education and culture of the youth, but also the betterment of the physical condition of the country. Your roads are a disgrace to such a magnificent citizenship. I fear that being set a little back from the thoroughfares of commerce that you fail to realize how rapidly the world is improving, and what wonderful strides forward the world is making.

We can not live as our fathers did 50 years ago except to pattern after their honorable conduct. Progress asks all that and something more.

I have a right to quarrel a little with you people. You are my people and the best people on earth. But your school houses are rotting down. I can show you school houses that were built so long ago that I cannot remember the time and never a coat of paint did they receive. I could tell you where one of them is, or was two years ago because I examined it. That school house was good enough for the boys forty years ago, but you citizens are not doing your full duty when you force those bright faced girls and boys into those old "shacks" and call them school houses. The great cry in all ages has been growth, growth, growth, but now, especially in this age, is the admonition of onward and upward till we can reach the full development of new and wonder.

Yours,

T. S. Cartwright.

NOTICE

JOE

This celebrated stallion will make the season of 1913 at Will Johnson's barn, 4½ miles south of Columbia and 1½ miles west of Gadberry on Pettits Fork creek, and will serve mares at $6.00 to insure a living colt. He has proven to be a good breeder.

JOE is a dark bay, 16 hands high, heavy built, good style, has the best of eyes, feet and legs, and in fact a perfect model in every respect. He is a Cleveland Bay and the best work horse I ever seen, and quiet and easy handled for women to drive, so he needs no further introduction.

Money due when colt is foaled. All care taken to prevent accidents but not responsible should any occur.

We will also stand a good 6 year old Jack at the same place on same condition as horse at the low fee of $5.00. This Jack is 14 hands high and has proven himself a good breeder.

Call and see our stock if interested.

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The relative percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with
Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with phosphate powder:

68 1/4 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67 3/4 Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

The Steady Subscriber.

How dear to our hearts is the steady subscriber,

Who pays in advance at the birth of each year,

Who lays down the money and does it quite gladly,

And casts 'round the office a halo of cheer.

He never says: "Stop it, I can not afford it,

I'm getting more magazines now than I read;"

But always says, "Send it; our people all like it—

The fact is we think it a help and a need."

How welcome his check when it reaches our sanctum,

How it makes our pulse throb, how it makes our heart dance.

We outwardly thank him, we inwardly bless him.

How to be Certain of Curing Constipation

Prejudice is a hard thing to overcome, but where health is at stake and the opinion of thousands of reliable people differs from yours, prejudice then becomes your menace and you ought to lay it aside. This is said in the interest of people suffering from chronic constipation, and it is worthy of their attention.

In the opinion of legions of reliable American people the most stubborn constipation imaginable can be cured by a brief use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You may not have heard of it before, but do not doubt its merits on that account, or because it has not been blatantly advertised. It has sold very successfully on word of mouth recommendation. Parents are giving it to their children today who were given it by their parents, and it has been truthfully said that more druggists use it personally in their families than any other laxative.

Letters recently received from M. E. Myers, Morrison, Tenn., and Ada Hamersmith, 118 W. Chestnut St., Louisville, Ky., are but a few of thousands showing the esteem in which Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is held. It is mild, gentle, non-gripping—not violent, like salts or cathartics. It cures gradually and pleasantly so that in time nature again does its own work without outside aid. Constipated people owe it to themselves to use this grand bowel specific.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. E. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Strange Litigation.

Among the curiosities of litigation may be cited the following case. On the boundary-line of two farms in an Austrian village, there grew a large gooseberry-bush, from which the two farmers for years gathered the product. "What grows on my side is mine, and you may have the rest," was the agreement.

Some time ago the neighbors had a misunderstanding, and this came to a climax when the gooseberries became ripe. A lawsuit followed, and appeals were made to higher judicial bodies. The final decision was lately recorded in the Austrian courts.

Each party is to have the right to pick the berries which grow on his side of the line, just as it was originally, but neither may destroy the bush. The costs are charged half to each litigant. Each farmer had to pay 225 krone. The yearly yield of the bush is worth about one-half krone, and the Judge told the fighting farmers:

"With good luck, it will take you only 800 years to make the bush pay. Take good care of it."

Pains in the Stomach.

If you continually complain of pains in the stomach, your liver or your kidneys are out of order. Neglect may lead to dropsy, kidney trouble, diabetes or Bright's disease. Thousands recommend Electric Bitters as the best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh, N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. I suffered much, but Electric Bitters was recommended and I improved from the first dose. I now feel like a new man." It will improve you too. Only 50c and $1. Recommended by Paull Drug Co. Ad.

Eating When Tired.

Eating when tired, says a medical authority, is one of the surest ways of bringing about disorders of the digestion. Yet the principal meal of the day is eaten by most business and professional men when the whole body is wearied.

In this matter a man is largely in the hands of his wife. If she is a very practical body she arranges that dinner shall be ready when the husband gets home, but a husband so well cared for may for that very reason become dyspeptic.

It may be laid down as an essential rule of dietetics that when a man or woman comes home from business, hunting, shooting, golf or any other form of bodily exercise, there should be a rest for at least an hour before dining.

Dressing for dinner is not rest, and hurried dressing only increases the trouble sure to follow. One must have complete rest of body and mind, and the best way to secure it is to lie down.

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living to-day." known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Keeping Things Clean

Don't forget that the kettles—coffee, tea and water, must all be cleaned as often as the other cooking kettles. Fill the coffee or tea pots nearly full of warm, or boiling water, and add to each kettle two heaping tablespoons of saleratus; let boil for twenty minutes, then pour the water out, wash well with clear warm water, and find out the difference. The tea kettle must be washed, and use the saleratus in this also. Many people do not regard these kettles as cooking vessels, and rarely take the trouble to wash them out.

For milk or butter things, the use of soda is excellent. It will soften the dish water, and cleanse and sweeten the dishes.

For the wringer rollers, use coal oil; it will keep them clean. For nickel-plated copper, or other ware, clean with a rag moistened with coal oil, then polish with soft cloth or tissue paper. Will remove smoke stains from cooking vessels.

Former banker Charles W. Morse, who was released from the penitentiary at Atlanta, has returned to New York from Europe and will engage in business.

Obituary.

The following lines in memory of Malvin N. Hale are written for the comfort of his dearly beloved, yet heartbroken family.

The subject of this sketch was a young man with many noble traits and a beautiful character. He was 21 years of age and a victim of consumption. His 21st birthday was celebrated at his home near Ruasell Springs, on Feb. 24th 1913, by his many relatives and friends and from that time on he gradually grew worse, until Wednesday evening March 26, when with a smile of heavenly joy on his face, his spirit took its flight to that beautiful and bright beyond.

Malvin was liked by all who knew him and the pride of a fond father and mother. He leaves a father and mother, brothers and sisters to mourn his loss, but we would say to the bereaved family. "Weep not as those who have no hope" for Malvin is not dead but sleepeth. The bereaved family have the deepest sympathy of the entire community in this their saddest affliction.

Funeral services were held at the French Valley Church, by Rev. Montgomery after which the remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground, there to await the resurrection morn.

We ask God's blessing on the bereaved family and that they submit their will to Him "who doeth all things well."

C. C. Hale.

Richest Indian.

The richest American Indian in the world has been discovered. He is Lon C. Hill, 53 years old, a "full blood" Choctaw, and his claim to being the Rockefeller of red men is based upon his possessions, valued at $6,000,000.

Hill lives in Harlingen, Tex. In fact he owns the whole town but it is only a mite in the midst of his vast estate, which extends to Bronsville, 25 miles away. He has 11 motor cars to make the run from his residence in Harlingen to his business office in Bronsville.

This Indian Croesus is a living testimonial that members of his race need not be wards of Uncle Sam unless they so choose. He started his empire on a capital of $200, and has never received anything from the Government. Like so many of his "white brother" captains of industry, he is a self-made man in every sense of the word. Not only is he a shrewd business man, but a clever lawyer as well, practicing his profession in addition to over seeing his big ranch.

Hill was one of the chief factors in blazing the trail for civilization through the Rio Grande valley, but of his early experiences he refuses to talk, contenting himself with shrugging his broad shoulders about which his long black hair falls in a most picturesque manner.

There is one thing, however, about which he will never hesitate to talk, and that is the price of sugar. As a sugar grower and refiner that is of much more interest to him than the fact that he has risen so far above the members of his own race, and even above the great majority of the "conquering white men."

Hatcher.

Several of our boys spent Easter in Louisville.

Little Dorothy Rice, who has been on the sick list for several days, is about well again.

A little daughter came to the home of Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Kelsey, March 25th.

Mrs. Robert Gibson, of C-ville, spent Sunday with the family of J. H. Gibson, on Meadow Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. May were visiting the former's brother at Elkhorn Saturday and Sunday.

Rev A. G. Link preached an Easter sermon to a large and appreciative audience at Bethel last Sunday. Mr. Link is a modest godly teacher, and has won the heart of every little boy and girl who has come in contact with him.

C. B. Whitney is in Bowling Green on business. He will be absent for several days.

The school at Maple Heights which is being taught by Miss Emma Wade, of Saloma, closed last Friday.

Gobel Dills, who fell from a barn loft and sustained a broken arm, is getting along nicely.

C. E. Coffey, of Bell county came down last week looking for a team mules. After his purchase he started back to his mountain home where he is employed in the lumber business.

Emett is a jovial, industrious fellow, and we trust he will make good in his new home among the mountains.

W. O. Gibson, one of our Taylor county boys who is chief clerk in a large dry goods store at Williamsburg, Ky., writes he is well pleased with his job, and find the people very hospitable.

Mrs. Vester Dills and daughter, Violet, are sojourning in Blanchard, Okla., in quest of the latter's health. Mrs. Dills writes that her daughter doesn't seem to improve.

Shreve & Walls have moved their saw mill to Meadow Creek. They will have about two months sawing at this place, and this summer, several commodious barns will be erected and a lot of fencing done.

Cumberland Presbytery will convene at Liberty church the first Saturday and Sunday in April. The church has been painted and other repairing done in honor of the occasion. A large number of ministers are expected to be present.

J. H. Hearon has put in a gasoline mill with which to grind feed for his stock. Mr. Hearon is one of our most progressive farmers, and we think his money wisely spent.

The farmers are taking another vacation, and the just and the unjust are receiving alike; a down pour of rain. Green river is very high, and much damage is being done. The Meadow Creek road is almost impassable. Several bridges are gone, and the road bed entirely washed away in some places.

Look to Your Plumbing.

You know what happens in a house in which the plumbing is in poor condition—everybody in the house is liable to contract typhoid or some other fever. The digestive organs perform the same functions in the human body as the plumbing does for the house, and they should be kept in first-class condition all the time. If you have any trouble with your digestion take Chamberlain's Tablets and you are certain to get quick relief. For sale by Paull Drug Co. Ad.

FIVE CENT MEAL SOLVED PROBLEM

It Helped Reduce Expenses of Domestic Science Course.

ATTENDANCE 100 PER CENT.

Colored High School of Owensboro Among the First to Offer Full Four Year Instruction in Household Arts. Every Girl Pupil and Several Boys Now Enrolled.

Three years ago, when very few high schools in Kentucky were offering a course in domestic science, the Colored High school at Owensboro made a beginning. The board of education there at that time, like many others in the state, was hampered by a lack of funds. The board also had before it the experience of other schools where the expense account of the domestic science course had proved quite a burden. It was a difficult problem, but the faculty of the high school felt that the work could be put upon a basis that would make it almost self sustaining.

Today the Colored High school of Owensboro has a four year course in domestic science and will graduate seven girls that have taken this full course. During these four years only three girls have failed to take the course, and this year 100 per cent of the girls in the high school take domestic science. Besides these girls, it might be well to add that there are eight boys enrolled in the classes, so that the figures should really read 100 per cent plus.

A five cent dinner and lunch counter handled by the domestic science department have made this splendid work possible. The cost of material in both cooking and sewing classes has been met each year by the board of education paying a deficit of about $5 a month.

The preparation of this five cent dinner would seem to be a definite loss in some of the technical training, but it appears otherwise when one visits the school.

It appears to be of absolute value in the general training, as the girls are used in small relays, so that each girl in the school comes to this special work once a week. The class book, which is carefully kept, shows exactly the work the pupil has done each time she has been on duty for a dinner and luncheon.

If she has made biscuit and afterward cleaned the stove this week the next she will probably prepare a salad and clean the refrigerator. In the course of the school year she will have covered a certain definite amount of practical housekeeping work. There is the added value that she has prepared this food in quantities sufficient for an ordinary family, and not in laboratory quantities.

It might be urged that a high school is not a vocational school, and that our schools are not preparing girls for lunch room service. This is all true, but the greatest indictment brought against our schools today is that they do not give our boys and girls a grip on life, real, everyday things. The work in this school seems to give this and at the same time helps to sustain itself while giving all the pupils something that is wholesome to eat at a remarkably low price.

There are high schools all over the country that cannot afford domestic science. There are many others where the girls are doing laboratory domestic science, and a large percentage of the pupils go to the corner grocery or a cheap confectionery for their noon luncheon.

The value as well as the economy of serving the children with an appetizing, inexpensive meal, scientifically prepared, is obvious. Their health is conserved and a practical course in domestic science is made possible.

Is it not possible to gain both things at the same time by a carefully prepared course of study?

It certainly is worth thinking about, for people everywhere are looking to the school for more real every day efficiency.

Don't Get Into a Rut.

A rut in the road is bad enough, but a rut in your life work is infinitely worse. Get out of the rut and come to Louisville April 30, May 1, 2 and 3, to the forty-second annual meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association.

It'll do you good to meet new faces and see some of the old ones again. It'll do you good to see and know that Kentucky is thoroughly alive educationally. It'll do you good to see over 5,000 people together who are interested in education.

If never there, you ought to go. If ever there, you'd want to go.

Mike Winfrey, of Columbia, was here one day the first of the week.

W. W. Yates returned from Edmonton the first of the week.

J. F. Pendleton, of Greensburg, was here Monday looking after his farming interest.

Ed Hill was at Greensburg last Wednesday.

Miss Mollie Flowers' school closed last Friday, she taught a very interesting school.

Messrs Neil & Nell have charge of Keltner Bros. store, they invoiced last week, the stock amounted to something near thirty-five hundred dollars.

Mrs. W. M. Wilmore was on the sick list several days of last week.

Scott Hill is painting W. S. Pickett's new house this week.

Mr. Strong Hill returned from McGregor, Texas last Friday accompanied by two young ladies, the Misses Reece, from Kansas City. Mr. Hill reports his daughter improving slowly.

Mr. J. F. Pendleton, of Greensburg, while in our community bought something like car-load of hogs for future delivery at $7.00 and $7.25 cents per cwt. Mr. Pendleton is a very liberal buyer and our stock men are glad that he is on the market again for stock.

Uncle Weeden Yates says he is for Stanley for United States Senator. Who is the next one?

Charles Diddle, of L. W. T. S., spent last Sunday at home.

Mr. J. W. Walker, of Columbia, spent a few days on the farm near here last week on account of his brother, Nat, being confined with rheumatism.

Mr. Allen Kemp, one of our up-to-date farmers and best citizens, is confined to his room with fever at this time.

The few days of warm weather put fishing in the minds of our boys and the banks of our creek were lined up with fishermen.

Mr. and Mrs. George McMahan of East Fork, were in our midst last Friday, Mrs. McMahan was looking after millinery goods.

While in conversation with Mr. J. H. Smith a few day ago he informed us that he was in the tobacco market last week, in Louisville, and sold a few hogsheads at a low price considering what tobacco was bringing on the same market a few months ago. Mr. Smith was also on the stock market and reported good cattle selling for their full value.

We will ring off this week by saying that we have been well supplied with candidates and drummers, the former in good spirits with a bright future, and the latter enjoying good trade and "happy on the way."

Editor Adair County News:

Two years ago I took a seventy mile stage ride, from Caldwell, Idaho, to Jordan Valley, Oregon, with a gentleman with whom I became fairly well acquainted, that is according to the western style of getting acquainted. I did not ask his name nor did he ask mine. I do not know whether this would have been a breach of the rules of western etiquette or not, but for some reason one seems to naturally fall into this manner of action toward strangers.

Good Eatings For Little Folks And For Big Ones, Too

Made With the "Always Reliable" Flour

What can be more appetizing than the aroma of feather-like biscuit, fluffy rolls or light flaky pastry turning to a golden brown tempting enough to fairly melt in your mouth? To obtain the best results you must use the highest grade flour milled entirely from best winter wheat—and that's hard to get this year (when winter wheat is high and spring wheat costs much less—millers are tempted to blend spring and winter wheat flours for greater profit) unless you insist on your grocer supplying

I met this gentleman on subsequent trips to the same place and passed as casual acquaintances.

A few days ago while at Jordan Valley, I overheard this man make some remark about Kentucky. Well, you know if there is anything that will arouse a Kentuckian's curiosity, it is to hear some one speaking of his native State. I proceeded then to break all the rules and ask questions. I found that his name was S. K. Jones, and that he came from Adair county, that he knew nearly all the people that I did, and quite a number that I didn't know.

Well, we proceeded then to have a good visit, and I will confess that it was one of the most enjoyable visits that I have had in a long time.

It was more than a dream of home as my mind jumped back over those twenty-seven years.

Even now I can see the old brick school house at Zion, surrounded with those stately Oak and Beech trees, with the cool moss like a carpet underneath. I believe I would recognize every name carved on the old desks and seats with the overworked jack-knife. Let's see, there were Forest and Jim Ed, and Manje, Boss and Crick, John and Hud., Jack and Sylvester, Sid, Joe and Les, but I am getting over to the little school house back of the field now, but it doesn't really matter, I believe I would know every one of them if I should go back now; but of course they wouldn't know me, because I am getting old and bald-headed.

I guess if there are any Beech trees left standing on the road to school, you will find my name carved there; and I am truly glad now that I had the forethought to do so much carving while I was small, for I have never had the opportunity to carve it in the Halls of Fame since I left there, and that may be partly responsible. But it makes me feel prouder than ever of my old home, when I learn that so many of the Adair county boys have carved their names higher and on something more lasting than the beeches, where the bark doesn't crack and deface nor the moss grow over and obliterate.

but a Kentuckian, whether at the height of fame or in the lowest depths of poverty, always thinks of his native home with a feeling of reverence. Why? I have tried to solve that problem but am not sure that I have arrived at the right solution.

It may be his youthful memories of the green hills, the woods, pastures, the meadows, or the songs of the mocking bird; it may be the laughing brook, the fleecy clouds or the gorgeous sunsets; it may be the bloom of the Poplar or the scent of the Honeysuckle and the Crab apple, or it may be even the Chestnut burrs and stone bruises in the stories of self-sacrifice, bravery and devotion that are told and the principles of honor and loyalty that are taught around the old fireplace, while the sparks and flames from the old hickory logs go upward and their warmth and light of cheer and hospitality reach outward to all who come within its reach. It was there we drew those beautiful pictures in our youthful imagination, assisted by the weird and ever changing checks and seams of the old back log.

Yes, Kentucky will always be dear to me, but there is one spot there that is sacred. It is just a small plot about six by three, in the little churchyard at Glenville, where lies the remains of one of whom I cannot remember one harsh word. Nothing but love and kindness.

Yes, if I am spared, I am going back again sometime, if only for a day.

Yours Truly,
Ed L. Morris.

Noble Peacock

NOBLE PEACOCK the best Stallion in Kentucky, will serve this season for the low price of $10.00 to insure a living colt.

NOBLE is 5 years old 15½ hands high, is a beautiful bay with white hind feet, strictly sound and the best saddle horse I ever backed. He is showing the best lot of colts this spring I ever looked at.

NOBLE is by Jordan Peacock 1148, the best breeder that was ever in Adair county, his colt shows at the Columbia Fairs is evidence of the fact. Noble's dam is by Artist Jewel, 2nd dam by Cromwell Denmark 73, 3rd dam by Artist 75. There is not a better bred stallion living than Noble Peacock, and I will guarantee every good mare that is bred to Noble, to bring a high class colt with both ends up.

HIGHWAY and JACK O'DIAMONDS

My two fine Jacks will stand for $10.00 for mare mules and $8.00 for horse mules to insure.

HIGHWAY'S colts sold last fall as high as $120.00. I sold a pair of 2-year-olds the 29th day of March, to W. T. Thompson, of Hart county for $440.00. This was two of the finest mules that were ever raised in Adair county, and they were by Highway.

JACK O'DIAMONDS was 2 years old last fall and is a good prospect. He was sired by G. Y. Thompson's 16 hand Jack, at Centre, Ky., for which Mr. Thompson has been offered $1200. Jack O'Diamond's dam was by Governor St. John a 16 hand Jack.

When you breed to my stock you are breeding to the best. I have been in the Breeding business 34 years, and I do not keep anything but the best.

If mare is traded or removed out of the neighborhood where she is bred before folding time the season is then due.

Respectfully,
W. L. Grady.
